As you can see, I don't have any straight line (nor rounded) on the first preview, the preview window is too small to allow me to see the curve correctly. Second preview is OK. A: I don't believe there is a way to do that, other than to draw the line with no fill then invert it. It's probably the easiest way. Summer Jam festival on Saturday, July 13th, of the University of Maryland Campus, has been canceled due to extreme heat and lack of "fanfare". UMD Student Affairs is putting the safety of the students first in light of the extreme heat and the fact that the day is expected to be the hottest in nearly 30 years. While the facility does not have the a cooling option, Student Affairs would like to make sure that the safety of the students is a top priority. The heat can have an impact on several aspects of life. Health and well being are key priorities. The heat can be especially problematic for the elderly and the very young. The UMD Student Affairs office is still committed to providing students with a safe and enjoyable experience at Summer Jam. We recognize that you might want to head down to the Dome earlier in the day and spend some time outside before the heat sets in. The best time to relax and get a little sun is after the sun goes down. We ask that you give us the opportunity to avoid having to cancel the event and putting all of our efforts into a safe and enjoyable experience that everyone can enjoy. We realize that this is a difficult situation for you and our entire community and we appreciate your patience. The gods have chosen to be the blueprints for our cities and towns, for our neighbors. They are our neighbours, too. [Photo: Getty Images] Read more The gods have chosen to be the blueprints for our cities and towns, for our neighbours. They are our neighbours, too. You might think of the gods as a sort of diplomatic body, rather than the animated characters of ancient mythology. However, their message is the same: "If you build it, they will come." Take the events of the last week. Vancouver announced it will be hosting the 2015 World Urban Forum; Montreal, the 50th anniversary of Expo 67; and Ottawa, which will host the first ever Canadian Pavilion at the Venice Biennale. Meanwhile, a vocal minority has followed the lead of the god
