There will always be someone smarter than the person in question. I know that I cant be perfect and so I dont try to be. I do what I can and post what I think is relevant. Thank you all for your support. I cannot thank you all enough for your kind words and support. I hope I have been helpful. Please feel free to let me know if I was in error and I will correct it. Thanks! Sent from my MBP using Tapatalk EDITED: My apologies but you cannot have a wrong. It is impossible. Yeah, I've always thought that if something exists, there has to be a balance between entities that are stronger and weaker. If something is weak then it can't really be strong. Sent from my iPhone using Tapatalk It's not about strength but about balance. Strength and power are two seperate things. Power is just using the strength you already have, that's it. There's nothing new about that. There are many strong people in this world and there are many weak people in this world. b7e8fdf5c8
