We all know that the physical assault against Donald Trump by a man who has continuously encouraged violence against him is unacceptable. But, in the wake of Trump's claim that he would like to see "Second Amendment people" do something about the New York mayor whose brother's mad, anti-Trump rant at a public event led to the man being arrested for felony assault against the New York businessman, what if the armed citizens Trump desires to see rise to his defense were in fact men or women of color? While the stories of the Los Angeles, Missouri, and Chicago attacks against Donald Trump since his arrival in New York have been covered extensively by The Huffington Post and elsewhere, police account of the incident in which the New York businessman was shot in the abdomen has not. So, why isn't the New York Police Department's (NYPD) account of the incident being reported in the media? An NYPD sergeant was released from duty hours after he shot a man who approached Donald Trump with a knife. According to the NYPD, the man who approached Trump at a Trump Tower rally with a knife asked if the men and women at the rally were "really going to let [Trump] die?" As a line of guards and police officers attempted to surround Trump, a man pulled a knife, yelled, "Donald Trump, you're not a real president, you son of a bitch," then walked away. As Trump was speaking, a man approached him and began waving a "NYPD" helmet with a knife in one hand and a shield in the other. Other e79caf774b
