I need to get the 'total_shipped' attribute from the sales_flat_order table (or another reliable source). I'm creating an extension and need the number of shipments that have been done for a particular customer. Looking on how the sales_flat_order table is defined, I see it has a quantity attribute which is used when using the vw_sales_grid. However, I need it for an extension and need a way to access it. A: You may use Mage::getModel('sales/order')->load($orderId);. After all, I'm quite sure you're looking for it's order_increment_id. T r u e L e t t (o)

Poi, un sistema funzionale al cliente. Ron Paul's students have been influencing politics and culture since before the Revolution. First, consider Founding Father and member of the Continental Congress, Benjamin Franklin. In his book Poor Richard's Almanack, Franklin extolled the virtues of education and, in his wisdom, he also laid out a recipe for education. He advised his readers to "remember the stings of a bee for the sake of a good apiarist," and to "learn of him so that you can avoid his mistakes." When the students of New London, Connecticut, were learning of his wisdom, they created a club to be called the "The Society for Tending the Minds of Young Men." The founders carved out a mission to assist the society by sending students to colleges, checking the composition of their minds, feeding their tongues with good books, and making sure that they mastered their resources. This society for the mind of young people has been called The Franklin Society. This had a lot in common with the "Society for Tendin' the Minds of Young Women," which Franklin also prescribed in Poor Richard's Almanack and which began operations after he published the book, encouraging young women to "learn of him, so that you can avoid his mistakes." This club is now the oldest female student organization in America, and has changed its name to the Phi Sigma Iota Society. While both organizations promoted education in a similar fashion, they did it at different times: while Ben Franklin wrote Poor Richard's Almanack in 1732, the Phi Sigma Iota Society did not begin its operations until 1970. The lesson was similar in both cases: Franklin and Phi Sigma Iota both believed that education was essential to a healthy society, and they urged their young students to learn everything they could. And their students responded. Another Founding Father of the Republic, the Reverend John Witherspoon, preached at the University of Edinburgh in 1776, suggesting that all Americans should be critical thinkers and "enquirers after God and d0c515b9f4
